LET THE COURT TRY IT.

A case is in the courts involving the integrity of two citizens of this State. No one claims that they acted wisely, and they undoubtedly would do differently if they had to go over it again. The question is not whether they violated the moral law, but whether they violated the State law. That is the point now to be settled, and it should be tried in the Courts and not in the newspapers or on the street. Nothing can be gained by trying to break down the District Attorney or deprive him of the help necessary to make a proper effort. No such case has ever been tried by one man single-handed, and if it is to be tried at all it should be a trial and not a farce. The compensation may be too high and the action of the Board subject to criticism, but that is entirely another matter. The case is in the courts and it should be fairly tried and settled.

GIVE IT ATTENTION.

The officers have made 37 arrests this month and have convicted all but three cases. The arrested parties nearly all traced their troubles, directly or indirectly to Douglas avenue. That nauseous thoroughfare breeds more trouble and is the source of more fights, robberies and petty larceny offenses than all the rest of the town combined, and needs strict attention from the officers night and day. Several of the houses are filled with drunken, worthless men and women who commit crime and defy the law by swearing themselves clear when "taken in." The Commissioners should look into that locality and devise some means of suppressing the nuisance.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

During the year 1882 Great Britain imported goods to the value of $422,001,683. During the year ended June 30, 1882, the United States imported goods valued at $724,639,574. The relation of the two was about as 100 to 35. The imports per capita of the United Kingdom were about $58.40, while those of the United States were about $18.42—a relation of 100 to 23. Of the total importations into the United Kingdom, no less than $788,900,000, in round numbers, were for articles of food and drink. The importation of this class of commodities into the United States during the year amounted to only $236,172,810.

An Arkansas editor having retired from the business leaves this clear and satisfactory explanation: "It is due to the public that I should make a full confession before I retire from the active control of the Spider. I procured the position merely to secure office, and now that I have been elected Constable of this precinct I step aside to give some other aspiring man a chance. I have made many friends and killed two men during my editorial career, for which I am thankful and deeply indebted to this community."

Says the Inter-Ocean: Indiana is rich in timber. The fine walnut trees would bring a pile of money. And then the Presidential timber of Indiana is not to be sneezed at. It throws aloft its branches and waves in every Republican and Democratic breeze. The pole that will knock the persimmon may be growing on Pogue's Run or along the Wabash, who knows?

The Irishman cries for liberty, and it's a good thing; America hears him and sympathizes. But, says the Philadelphia Press, he shouldn't try to enslave himself with a dynamite cartridge. America doesn't sympathize with that.

Editor Session of the Eureka Sentinel charges Sam. Davis of the Carson Appeal with attempting to elect himself Chief of Police of Virginia and getting left. The Appeal replies by saying that in the case of the Sentinel man the taxpayers go left.

COMMENTS.

The editor of an eastern paper reviews the publications in his vicinity, and after each has a few words of comment. One he says is "the oldest and certainly one of the best;" another he characterizes as "only fair;" another, "better than you would expect;" another, "extra dry." Others are spoken of as "good," "well edited, but badly printed," "supposed to be dead," "not dead, but sleepy," "too full of taffy," "attends strictly to business," "never flirts," "died of starvation," "of little use for reading, and too small to wrap up bundles with," "very tame and poorly printed," "had no mission and died a natural death," "has the appearance of being printed on a cider press," "a solemn sheet with few faults and no virtues," "dead—advertisements sore full long it bore," and other caustic notes.

Who owns the $10,575,000 bonds of the United States now past due, and on which interest ceased long ago, and why are they not forthcoming for redemption? The Treasury answers this question with the suggestion that they have been probably been mislaid or accidentally destroyed. About $15,000,000 of the $40,000,000 of fractional currency used during the war, and some $26,000,000 of greenback notes issued since 1863, have been lost.

The storm on the plains continues to intercept telegraphic communication with the East. The lines were down between Ogden and Omaha again to-day, and are yet prostrated. On the southern route all the wires are down east of Deming; hence the GAZETTE's telegraphic columns do not contain the usual amount of eastern news.

WESTERN TELEGRAMS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Miners and Tar.
 EUREKA, April 23.
 A sensation was created here to-day by the arrest of eight Secret Canyon miners, who were brought to town to answer for tarring and feathering A. P. Hodgdon, and riding him two miles up and down hill on a rail. Some 40 men were engaged in the act. They say Hodgdon shall not live in their camp, as they believe, notwithstanding his acquittal when tried recently on the charge, that he did set giant powder to blow up the Geddes and Bertrand hoisting works, which, if successful, would have resulted in killing many of them in the mine below.

Suits Commenced.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.
 A suit has been commenced by Attorney General Marshall against Leland Stanford and Charles Barrollhet, bondsmen of T. C. Van Ness, ex-Commissioner of Immigration, to recover $25,000 on his bond; also against Barrollhet and A. J. Moulder to recover on a similar bond; also against Obed Worth and C. F. Bassett to recover $2,500 on a bond of ex-Commissioner of Immigration Chas. D. Bunker.

EASTERN DISPATCHES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
James G. Blaine and His Reputation.
 CHICAGO, April 24.
 The Tribune's Washington special says: The National Republican, which certainly is not friendly to Blaine, has permitted the following to be published, which shows in what a reckless manner the recent charges against Treasury officials, and a good many who are not connected with the Government, have been made: "You have said hard things of James G. Blaine," remarked a friend of the Senator last evening; "now say a good word for him by exposing the very disreputable trick designed to do him an injury, which has come to my notice. In looking through Murch's charges against Supervising Architect Hill, I find that in two of the specifications the name of Mr. Blaine is printed in big type as one of the parties who profited by the alleged dishonest favors shown by Mr. Hill to the Bodwell and Collins Granite Companies in Government contracts, but that on revision a pen line is drawn through the name. For instance, in the paragraph relating to various enormities alleged to have been practiced to the profit of the Government's expense, a thin ink mark indicates that the following words have been eliminated: 'James G. Blaine is, or was, interested in the company, and profited largely by these transactions.' Now, I submit, is not this a cowardly way of attacking a man's character? If Murch did not believe his charges against this man, as originally drawn, could be proved, why did he not entirely obliterate those portions in which reference is made to him, and not have the print staring every chance reader in the face? It is not right."

Two Desperados Escaped.

BRAINARD, Minn., April 24.
 Burns Hawley and Bennett Thrus, desperados, who engaged in a fight with a Sheriff's posse at the Mississippi railway bridge Thursday last, escaped from the calaboose yesterday by cutting through the wall.

What They are Good For.

BOSTON, April 23.
 A party of burglars invaded the town of Essex, Mass., mounted on noiseless bicycles, a few nights ago, entered a number of houses, and rode off with considerable plunder, without having awakened any of the inhabitants.

The Tewksbury Investigation.

BOSTON, April 24.
 The members of the State Board of Health and Charities refuse by a vote of six to one to take immediate charge of the Tewksbury Alms House, and voted to ask the Supreme Court whether the word "may," in the statute is obligatory, and whether the Board may or must take charge.

 BOSTON, April 24.
 The Tewksbury investigation was opened by Attorney Brown, who, after alluding to the removal of the trustees by the Governor, commenced a review of the latter's statements regarding the removal made, in an interview with reporters last night. The Governor interrupted and protested against a revival or discussion of topics not germane to the investigation. He (the Governor) said he was entitled to express his opinion in whatsoever manner he chose, and said Brown was about to talk about something for which he (the Governor) was not responsible to the committee. He alone was responsible to the people of the State. After considerable bickering it was decided that Brown should not have the privilege of making his intended remarks.

NOW IS YOUR TIME

JOTTINGS.

Minor Occurrences in and About Town.

Go to Levy's. Have you seen those handsome new fringes at Levy's?

Women are most perfect when they trade with Levy Bros.

Reno was visited by a lively little snow-storm this morning.

Ladies will do well to look at Levy's newest style of dress goods.

You can find the prettiest buttons in all sizes and latest shades at Levy's.

The national game of base-ball is again being revived all over the country.

Clocks very cheap at Nash's. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1 and 3-46, 42, 51, 46, 50.

F. Levy and Bro. are the first in the field with a complete stock of new spring goods.

All the newest shades in dress goods and trimmings to match can be found at Levy's.

Bailey, the old-time clerk at the Lake House, is again at duty after an extended pleasure trip.

There will be a partial eclipse of the moon on the morning of the 23d of this month, visible principally on the Pacific coast.

Strawberries are quite abundant now, and are a little cheaper. A poor man can buy one now and not be forever bankrupted.

The Baptist folks will "sugar off" this evening. The Pavilion will doubtless be well filled. There is sugar enough for all of us. Take it in.

"It is easier to suppress the first desire than to satisfy all that follow it" was what a Long Valley farmer said after drinking a glass of George Becker's beer.

"Oh, pa," said a young lady, "why don't you get fur trees? It would be economical to raise our furs, and then we could raise whatever kind we wish."

The suit of A. J. Hatch vs. Manning & Berry has been dismissed. Messrs. Varian & Dickson have a notice in another column of importance to those who have been garnished.

The noble representatives of the Washoe tribe of Indians have taken possession of the Coats' Tavern. It seems to be a favorite place of resort for the young men and maidens of the tribe.

At the last day it will not be asked what we did or what we believed, but where we bought our boys' clothing. If it can be said that we traded at the White House all will be well. So give them a call.

A young man is languishing in jail at Evansville, Ind., for stealing an umbrella. The next time he wants to put up something for a rainy day he should come West and pay a bit for one of Chase & Fykes' punches.

The clerk of the weather is mixing things up east and southeast of this point. One moment large banks of black clouds roll up from behind the hills and spit a little snow or hail, and disappear only to be followed by another with rain.

"Big" Ross, the express messenger, was in Carson Sunday and was the observed of all observers.

Hon. Thomas Fitch, who represented Nevada in Congress and has lived in many of the States and Territories, has finally settled down to the practice of law in New York.

Over-Production.

An Italian farmer said in the street to-day that he could sell 50 tons of potatoes at $10 per ton. It is thought that this county will carry over 200 tons of potatoes for which there is no sale. Washoe spuds are part of California's regular supply now it is a staple and sure crop.

Investigating the Cause.

An investigation as to the cause of the death of the six men whose bodies were found beneath the ruins of the building which fell Thursday night in Sacramento, was commenced before Coroner Clarke Saturday evening, for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of the falling of the building.

Too Much Work.

Henry Cohn, clerk in M. Nathan's store, while shelving a lot of goods this morning, fainted away and fell from the step-ladder he was standing on. He escaped without injury. Overwork was the cause.

ANDERSONVILLE.

The Famous Southern Prison Pen as it is—The Graveyard.

A writer in the Cincinnati Journal says: Andersonville is the name of a station on the Southwestern Railroad, about 60 miles from Macon. It is nothing but a railway station, and the only thing that characterizes the spot is the immense Union cemetery of some 20 acres, over which floats the star spangled banner. The cemetery is constructed on the spot where the prisoners were buried, and the trenches were dug with such precision and regularity that the soldiers were not disturbed, but allowed to remain as their comrades interred them, working under the watchful eyes and fixed bayonets of the Georgia Home Guard.

The cemetery is surrounded by a stout wall with an iron gate, and is under the supervision of a Superintendent, who lives on the grounds. It is a plain spot. There is not much attempt made to ornament the city of our martyred dead. It would take a great deal of even such influences as plants and flowers to dispel the melancholy memories that haunt this hill in the pine wood of Southern Georgia.

Southerners shun the spot, but the cemetery is much visited by Northern travelers, and the registers in the Superintendent's lodge contains many strange inscriptions besides the names of the visitors. One lady asks the forgiveness of God for the murderers of her brother, who sleeps in the cemetery.

Occasionally a man who was in the stockade turns up among the visitors. These men, whatever their natural temper, the Superintendent says, can almost be distinguished by the effects of fear, dread and vivid recollection, which comes back like a shock into their faces as they again stand on the now quiet and silent scene of their war experience.

In the cemetery the ground is of a general level, and the graves of the known and unknown, properly separated, range in rows, close laid, as far as the eye can reach. There are actually buried on this elevation 13,715 men. The soldier whose identity was preserved by his comrades is marked in his resting-place by a white marble stone, raising 18 inches above the ground. A square marble block with the word "Unknown" on it is repeated about 1,000 times in the cemetery.

Part of the stockade is still standing. There are two rows of trees—one inside the other. The other row has fallen down, save a few posts here and there, but a large part of the inner wall still stands. Trees have grown up around the old pen, and a thick growth of underbrush now covers the site of the prison. No traces of the famous brook that ran through the stockade remain nor of the wonderful well dug by the prisoners. It is all now a mild and peaceful section of country.

A YANKEE DIM.
An Old-Fashioned "Str-Off" at the Pavilion This Evening.

Brother Hatch was born where the maple trees adorn the green hills of Vermont, and he conceived the happy idea of introducing an old-time sugaring-off for the benefit of his church here. Sugaring-off is not always a pastime in Vermont, but here it will be made entirely pleasant. The boys back there get up at 4 and go out to shake down fodder for the cows, then go out and gather the "sap." The fire is out doors, and the liquor is boiled in huge kettles until it becomes the delicious syrup that goes so well with buckwheat cakes. The only thing necessary to make sugar is to keep up the heat and evaporate the water. When it begins to granulate a strong and steady stirring makes it light, dry and mealy. The process this evening will be followed far enough to make good "wax," and anybody who wants fun can put a little in somebody's hair or down their back.

More Railroad Building.
Sunday morning last, 320 Chinamen, 50 horses and dump-carts arrived here by special train, says the Redding, Cal., Democrat, and the Chinamen set to work grading for the railroad. They made the first camp about three-quarters of a mile above town. Monday morning work commenced in earnest.

About 3,000 Chinamen will be here from the Mojave Desert in a week or ten days. Several of the bosses say the company intends to put on a force from 8,000 to 10,000 strong, and will hire all the men that want to work. White men are paid $1.50 a day and board—very good wages, indeed, these hard times.

Beef in Eastern Markets.
The business in dressed meat has grown to enormous proportions in Chicago. More than 70,000,000 hogs and 2,000,000 head of beef cattle have been slaughtered there in a year. These are conveyed to the stock yards by 18 different railroads. Nevada, Wyoming and Colorado send many a bullock to eastern markets, and in Chicago markets Nevada beef is considered the nicest they have.

Visiting Knights.
The members of De Witt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templar, Virginia, are to come down here to-morrow evening on a visit to Reno Knights. They will leave Virginia at 5:30 P. M. to-morrow and remain here over night.

THE COMSTOCK MOVEMENT.

An Old Problem About to be Solved—Who Will Guess It?

The opening up of the lower levels of Hale & Norcross has been a long time coming, and a great many people have held to the belief that in its depths their fortune lay. Wise ones have declared that a great boom would follow the first cross-cut, and a good deal of money has been lost in trying to hold on. The stock went to 4.50 on Saturday but to-day fell back to 3.70. Other stocks are agitated and immense sales are being made. Seven thousand shares of Savage changed hands on the streets this morning. The Post said last evening: "One of the morning papers yesterday contained what purported to be a dispatch from Virginia City to the effect that the Hale and Norcross improvement was not considered important and did not warrant the advance in the stock. The Post has enough evidence to the contrary, but being desirous of securing something official to set the matter at rest, we telegraphed to Virginia City and have just received the following official answer: 'Newspaper dispatch referred to is false. Improvement in north drift is very important. Drift now in about 45 feet, face of which shows very good ore on both sides. Indications warrant further improvements soon.'"

TROUBLE AT THE PRISON.

Convicts Fire the Shoe Shop in the Hope of Gaining their Liberty.

On Saturday evening just after the prisoners were called from the shoe shops for supper, says the Tribune, the trusty whose duty it was to clean up the shops, went thereto for that purpose and found some of the benches on fire and the stench of coal oil filled the building. The alarm was given and the officers quickly extinguished the fire. It appears that coal oil had been procured and a regular train laid which had it gotten a firm hold, would have destroyed the whole building and given the prisoners a chance to make a break in the melee.

The inmates of our penitentiary are not members of the Sunday school and will stand a deal of watching all the time.

Hope It Is.

Hon. W. H. Mills of San Francisco remarked recently in connection with the geyser at Beowawe that it was doubtless the tail end of some great fissure, just as Steamboat is the last of the one, which, in filling, formed the Comstock lode. This theory invites the suggestion that the promising camp of Bullion, a few miles southeast of the springs, may be the Comstock of Eastern Nevada. It looks like it, for it is improving with depth and has fine ore bodies already, though none like those found near the surface at Virginia.

An Irrepressible Fraud.

Giles Sharp was taken before Judge Young this morning charged with being drunk and disorderly, and was sent over the river for 40 days. This old fraud has been violating between the county poorhouse and jail for the past 15 years, and has cost the taxpayers a dollar for every hair on his head. He should be made to earn his cold meat and bread by doing work on the street.

A Painful Accident.

A young man named Castello, a brakeman on the local train between Reno and Virginia, met with a painful accident while coupling cars here to-day noon. While making the coupling the two first fingers of the right hand got caught between the drawheads and badly jammed. Dr. Bergman amputated the index finger and thinks he may be able to save the other.

Suit for Damages.

Mr. Bullenamp, a salesman in A. Lindley's store, has a suit against Gilmer and Saulsbury's stage lines, for injuries sustained by Mrs. Bullenamp in an accident while a passenger from Idaho, last Winter. Mrs. Bullenamp was injured in the head and had an arm broken. The suit is brought for $75,000. Varian, Lindsay and Dickson are her lawyers. They have a strong case.

A Confidence Game.

A man named Thomas Lowrie has been taking in the citizens of Eastern Nevada by playing a confidence game. A man by that name was discharged from the State Prison by action of the Board of Pardons last June. It may be another case of misplaced confidence.

Justice Court.

The case of Agnes Miller, John Gregor and Jas. Duxbury, charged with robbing the Fort Bidwell soldier of $250 in a house on Douglas avenue, came up for trial this morning. The testimony was not sufficiently convincing to warrant Judge Young in binding them over, so they were discharged.

A Tough Country.

Somebody substituted a pile of cornucopia for the doughnuts on a Vermont railway restaurant counter and they were about two-thirds eaten before anybody discovered what had happened.

WILLIAM J. SCANLAN.

An Opportunity to Pass a Pleasant Evening Thursday Night.

"Friend and Foe" is the attraction for Thursday evening. W. J. Scanlan, as "Carroll Moore," is simply immense. The house is sure to be crowded, and it should be, for this company is deserving. This popular comedy was presented at Windsor Theater, New York, and stood the test of a long engagement. The New York Herald of October 16th says: "The Windsor Theater's seating capacity was put to a severe test last evening to witness the young Irish comedian, William J. Scanlan, in Bartley Campbell's new comedy, 'Friend and Foe.' Both star and play leaped at once into popular favor and scored a decided success. In the course of the play Mr. Scanlan sings half a dozen of his own songs. The encores he received last night more than doubled this portion of the programme. The piece has been played throughout the country, but this was the first appearance in New York. It is a great go. Go to the postoffice and secure seats to-day."

THE LIVINGSTONS' CASE.

A Suit to Recover Sixteen Thousand and One Hundred and Eighty-Five Dollars and Seventeen Cents From the State of Nevada.

A Carson correspondent of the Virginia Enterprise says Attorney General Davenport and W. E. F. Deal, attorneys for the State in the suit of Livingston Brothers against the State for $16,185 17, have filed their brief. The suit arises from a dispute between the State authorities and the Livingstons as to the amount of interest due on State bonds held by the plaintiffs. The bonds were issued for $380,000, to run eight years, but the State soon afterward got rich from the immense revenue derived from the tax on the net proceeds of mines, the big bonanza showing up at that time, and in about a year a law was passed authorizing the redemption of the bonds at terms that would insure for the purchaser thereof not less than four and one-half per cent. per annum interest during the life of the bonds. A settlement was made, and the bonds were diverted to the State authorities—Governor Kinkaid and Treasurer Crockett being of the Board of Commissioners—and the amount received by the Livingstons, or rather Mark Livingston, was $502,702 17. He took the money and delivered the bonds, though he said at the time that he was not satisfied. Now he and his brother bring suit for the extra 16,000 and odd dollars.

A Dangerous Tumble.

The Nevada Transcript of last Saturday says: Last Tuesday a pack horse loaded with giant powder and belonging to N. C. Tully, was being led by a boy from Washington to Omega, when the animal made a misstep and went off the trail, rolling to the bottom of the canyon, 300 feet below. The boy hung to the lead strap till the giant powder cartridges began to fall from the packages and scatter around on the ground, when he very wisely concluded not to accompany the dangerous outfit any longer. The horse's neck was broken, but strangely enough none of the powder was exploded.

To-Night's Programme.

The "sugaring off," which takes place at the pavilion on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week, will be enlivened by an "old folk's concert." The following is the programme for the first evening:

Chorus, by the Old Folks.
Solo, "Auld Lang Syne"—Mrs. Cutting, in costume.

Quartet, "The Mellow Eve is Gilding"—Mrs. Hale, Miss McNeely, Messrs. Sanders and Cook.

Solo, "Within a Mile of Edinboro' Town"—Mrs. Sanders.

Duet, "Flirting in the Park"—Miss Ransous and Finley Cook.

Lost the Grade.

A cable street railroad is being laid on Market street, San Francisco. The lower end has to be piled for a block or two as the made ground is too soft to hold the heavy track. It is found now that the street has fallen about 18 inches below grade, in the center, beginning four or five blocks from the wharf. The sidewalks are on grade, but the crown is gone, leaving the whole roadway nearly flat. The cable road is raised up to grade and the other tracks and paving will have to be brought up to it.

To Open For Travel.

The N. & O. trains will be put on again shortly and passenger and freight business resumed.

A Destructive Wind.

The wind blew down the C. P. freight sheds at Ogden to-day.

Hope For Drunkards.

My husband had drunken habits he could not overcome until Parker's Gin-Tonic took away his thirst for stimulants, restored his energy of mind and gave him strength to attend to business.—Cincinnati Lady.
